The NV Public Utilities Commission whose job as defined by the Nevada Revised Statute they were created under:

"NRS 703.025 Reorganization of Commission; duties of Commission relating to reorganization; Commission authorized to adopt regulations for operation and enforcement of laws; plan for reorganization.

2. The Commission shall:

2) The reliability and safety of the provision of that utility service within that competitive market"

When it comes to safety, they are seriously deficient in both their acceptance of "expert testimony" and biasness towards NV Energy.

On December 2, 2011, NV Energy filed in Docket Number 11-10007, Document identification Number 13267, [1] whereby, they paid Exponent for "expert testimony" to refute and mitigate all the consumers concerns over Sensus Smart Meters. Along with having Exponent appear at the December 6, 2011 hearing and interacting with the NV PUC, including the Hearing Master Nancy Wenzel and Policy Analysis Staff Members Jon Davis and David Chairez.

Even after numerous consumers refuted the "science" as portrayed by Exponent, the NV PUC blindly followed and accepted the "paid for" testimony.

On May 25, 2010, a Qui Tam Complaint was filed in The United States
